Owning the G3 has actually caused me to get back to listening to shortwave and AM broadcast stations in bed at night, which I had gotten away from some years ago. Based on my 50 yrs of listening to shortwave radios and using the G3 for over a year, I would recommend this as an excellent, compact, portable shortwave radio easily worth twice what ...

I hope Eton can slightly widen the sync lock width in future production. It may not affect actual reception as much as it is an annoyance. As for sync lock depth, that has been improved as I mentioned earlier. The latest G3's will lock onto reasonably weak signals but again, this could be even better.

Purchased the G3 for AM/FM use. The case has a nice non-slip rubbery feel. The AM reception seems pretty good. The FM reception is Very good. A real nice sound from the small speaker. So far I am very pleased with this purchase. 2 day delivery is also very good. You need to read the owner manual though.
